

ISLAND
HERITAGE TRUST

ANNUAL REPORT 2016

The Land Trust of Deer Isle & Stonington, Maine.

The Year in Review

This past year was in many respects a year in which the Trust set the stage for a number of exciting acquisitions that will be coming to fruition in 2017.

Among other things, we awaited the receipt of funds from Land for Maine's Future that will enable the development of the Pickering parcel adjacent to the Lily Pond beach.

(Those funds have now been received.)

At the same time our stewardship of existing holdings continues to be stepped up considerably under the direction of David Vandiver and a legion of volunteers working under his direction. Support for this stewardship responsibility will be a major focus during 2017, as we prepare to receive several new properties.

Meanwhile, our environmental education program, under the leadership of Martha Bell, continued apace. During the summer months Martha led Kids in Nature walks on Tuesdays and Saturdays, drawing large groups of children from throughout the community. She also provided nature programming for Camp Kooky, our local summer camp. Working with student interns and on her own, Martha collected data for a number of science projects, including the monitoring of eel and beach grass, ocean acidification and the bacteria levels in the Lily Pond. She also attended workshops on project based learning with our elementary school teachers and assisted with specific project development. During the school year, Martha was in the high school most afternoons working with Marine Studies Pathway students and teachers. As in the past, she organized and led field trips to our preserves for grades K through 8, established an afterschool nature club of second through fifth graders, and assisted middle school science teacher Mickie Flores with a science enrichment program—Science with a Twist. All of this work is of enormous value to the recipients, while maintaining and strengthening community engagement and support for the work of the Trust.

Highlights of the summer also included our annual boat trips, a lively and well-attended Shore Dinner, and the Trusts fourth annual Ice Cream Social. (See picture)

We look forward to an exciting 2017.

2016 Stewardship Committee Annual Report (November 1, 2015 to October 31, 2016)

The most important function of this committee is to insure that IHT complies with our legal responsibility to manage for public benefit our 29 Conservation Easements which protect 834.9 acres and our 24 owned properties which protect an additional 611.8 acres. The total protected shoreline now stands at 20.7 miles and includes 20 islands! This large effort involves IHT Staff and many volunteers. Two of the Preserves, Settlement Quarry and the State owned Tennis Preserve, have "Friends of" groups to assist with management which are a huge help in carrying out day-to-day summer operations. A "Friends of Shore Acres" is being developed to support stewardship efforts there. In the future, it is hoped that all the IHT Preserves which are used heavily by the public during the summer will have "Friends of" groups composed of volunteers.

Beyond IHT's primary stewardship effort, the Stewardship Committee coordinated other diverse activities. Given that IHT has recently taken responsibility for five new Preserves (Whig Island, Crystal Cove, Lisa Tolman Wotton Nature Preserve, Offut addition to Shore Acres, Gross Point), tasks related to preparing these for public use has greatly increased our Stewardship duties. Despite the Governor holding up LMF funds awarded to IHT for its efforts to develop recently acquired properties adjacent to the Lily Pond, these funds should be available by early summer allowing extensive work to be done there. IHT will also receive a large tract of undeveloped woodland adjacent to the Lily Pond called the Church Land which with its rocky ridges, woods, and shore creates excellent possibilities for walking trails.

David Vandiver continues to serve as IHT's Stewardship Director. He is a vital member of the IHT staff and has worked on several initiatives to improve accountability and safety in IHT's management practices.

Land Committee Report 2016

This was another unusually busy year for the Land Committee. Crystal Cove Preserve was formally opened August 8, 2016. Its five acres and 1750 shore feet on Southeast Harbor are a gift of the Homann family. Legal work and survey continued on the future Lisa Tolman Wotton Nature Preserve, comprising 45 acres of woodland on Little Deer Isle with frontage on Blastow Cove. A gift initiated in 2016 from Mary Offutt and family will add of 35 acres and extensive shoreline on Greenlaw Cove to Shore Acres Preserve. Harvesters' access to the head of Crockett Cove for clamming and worming was assured through a trail easement granted by Sonny Stinson. The committee also negotiated conservation easements with three additional landowners, but these have yet to be completed and remain confidential.

In February a task force representing Land and Stewardship Committees issued Draft Recommendations on Conservation Easements, which expressed concern regarding future costs of overseeing our increasing number of conservation easements. One of the recommendations was that Land Committee to review its project evaluation criteria to better reflect the mission of the trust. A project must offer public benefit through clear conservation values. All our land protection projects for FY 2016 were donations reflecting the foresight of landowners who love their land and its value to the island community.

Program Committee Report for 2016

The Program Committee had a busy year lining up a wide array of Walks and Talks. Kids in Nature a series of Walks and Talks designed specifically for kids and their accompanying adult and led by Martha Bell was in its third year. We also initiated a Winter Lecture series, which we hope will become a staple of our programming. We hope that offering interesting and thought-provoking speakers once a month during the late fall and winter months will offer opportunities for people to get out and see each other and learn something new. This year we began a collaborative effort with Blue Hill Heritage Trust., Maine Coast Heritage Trust, Downeast Audubon, The Wild Seed Project, and Great Pond Mountain Conservation Trust to bring top outside speakers to our area. Our first speaker as the guru of natural gardening, Doug Tallamy. As always, we need volunteers for the committee (long distance help welcomed), ideas for programming, and people to meet and greet at the events.
